

CONTEMPORARY LEGAL STUDIES
MASTER ACADEMIC STUDIES PROGRAMME

BELGRADE, ACADEMIC YEAR 2023/2024

ABOUT US

The Union University Law School Belgrade (UULSB) was founded in 2001 and enrolled its first generation of students in 2002. We have over two decades long tradition of university level formal education in the field of law. Its signature features modern approach to studying various legal disciplines based on a combination of theoretical and practical teaching methodologies. Besides traditional legal disciplines, contemporary ones such as EU law, media law, medical law, environmental law, mediation, consumer law, Internet law, antidiscrimination law, children's rights, etc. are also a part of the UULSB study programs. All study programs have been designed to match curricula of European universities and corresponding schools, as well as to meet contemporary social needs.

The UULSB strives to prepare its students for professional engagement in the field of law. Our mission is to educate stellar legal professionals in any legal field who will act and discharge their duties honourably and with integrity, at the same time participating in advancing the law and legal institutions in the society. The quality of our study programs, as well as the implementation of academic and scientific research study activities, has made the UULSB a recognized academic center both nationally and internationally.

Our professors and lecturers have outstanding academic references earned both at national and renowned universities abroad. They have published internationally and nationally, and their work has been cited in international and national academic publications and by international and national bodies. Moreover, our professors and lecturers are socially engaged to contribute to the development, especially in the legal field, in Serbia and the region. UULSB Professors represent the Republic of Serbia in different commissions with the UN, Council of Europe and in various European professional organizations.

UULSB is registered with the Ministry of Education and Sports of the Republic of Serbia (based on its Decision No. 612-00-298/2001-04 dated 01 November 2001). .

The Accreditation and Quality Assurance Committee of the Republic of Serbia issued a Certificate of Accreditation of the, Master Academic Studies Programme in Human Rights Law (Reg. No. 612-00-02500/2013-04 from 20 March 2015).

EQUAL OPPORTUNITIES

UULSB provides equal study, participation and/or employment opportunities to all its students, faculty members and/or employees regardless of their personal traits that may otherwise be considered grounds for discrimination (such as their race, ethnicity, religion, creed, sex, ancestry or geographical origin, sexual orientation, political affiliation, property status, culture, language, age, mental or physical disability).

MASTER ACADEMIC STUDIES PROGRAMME

INTRODUCTION

UULSB organizes and implements postgraduate academic studies in law with the title of Master of Laws (LLM) being awarded upon their completion.

Eligibility criteria:

- Completion of a four-year undergraduate academic studies programme in law (240 ECTS), or completion of a four-year undergraduate academic studies in law in accordance with regulations before the 2005 Higher Education Act entered into force; or
- completion of a four-year academic study programme (240 ECTS) on a related humanities or social sciences school or department, or according to the laws before the 2005 Higher Education Act entered into force, provided that the curricula or those schools or departments are compatible with those of the Union University Law School Belgrade (UULSB).

Beside the criteria, the applicants' English language skills level must be such as to provide for teaching and instruction comprehension, passing exams, research projects implementation and writing of a final paper. These skills are to be proven by one of the following certificates: CAE – Cambridge Advanced Certificate in English, IELTS – International English Language Testing System, TOEFL – Test of English as a Foreign Language, as well as by presenting a graduation certificate from a high school in which the teaching was in English, or a diploma proving completion of undergraduate academic studies in English.

ORGANIZATION OF STUDIES

The Contemporary Legal Studies (CLS) study programme corresponds to the Bologna higher education system of legal professionals. It has a clear and unambiguous purpose, aims and learning outcomes, all in line with the law proscribing the national qualification framework, gearing students towards obtaining a master in laws academic title. The CLS lasts for a year (two semesters), with a total score of 60 ECTS. During their studies, the students must pass four exams (one from a mandatory subject and another three from optional ones), do an internship, implement a research study as a preparation for their final papers, as well as defend their masters thesis. Passing exams entails 30 ECTS, while internship, preparation and the final thesis entail the remaining 30 ECTS.

This study programme is an extension of a four-year undergraduate academic studies programme providing students with an direct access to their masters studies. The CLS lasts for a year (two semesters), with a total score of 60 ECTS and implemented exclusively in English. The programme includes subjects from various branches of law and legal disciplines, focusing on studying their contemporary application challenges. Master academic studies in law provide students with highest level of professional and theoretical knowledge necessary for resolving the most complex legal problems, a skill significant in all types of legal professions. Teaching in English provides students with an access to international education opportunities or professional career.

In line with the programme aim, upon completion of CLS students will have acquired the following knowledge and intellectual skills, i.e. general and specific professional competencies: 1. Specialist legal professional activities implementation skills; 2. Extended general theoretical and practical knowledge in chosen study subjects as an essential precondition to quality and responsible professional decision-making; 3. The ability to relate theoretical to practical knowledge to the possibilities of resolution of complex issues and cases requiring knowledge of various legal fields and complex legal acts composition skills; 4. The ability to apply various interpretative methods for considering legal texts as one of the necessary components of legal reasoning; 5. Logical thinking and conclusion-drawing capacity by applying legal syllogism and argumentation, along with interlinking knowledge from various fields of law; 6. The capacity to implement basic academic / legal research, including identification of appropriate research sources, adequate research methodology selection and research techniques application; 7. Correct and clear written and oral presentation skills concerning legal issues and compelling presentation and public appearance skills; 8. Assuming a responsible and critical attitude towards any social developments; 9. Conscientiousness and conduct corresponding the highest ethical standards of the legal profession; 10. Preparedness to take the initiative, independence and integrity in decision-making. Upon CLS completion, a student who has completed a 240 ECTS undergraduate academic programme in law with UUSL or another law school in the Republic of Serbia has direct access to the UUSL doctoral programme - PhD in law.

Upon completing the programme, students acquire the 7.1 qualification level and an academic title of a Master of Laws (MA/LLM), with extended, in-depth theoretical and practical knowledge and intellectual skills necessary for a successful career in the field of law as related to managerial positions in public administration, the judiciary, international organisations, companies and the non-governmental sector.

ATTENDANCE: DUTIES, OBLIGATIONS AND SEMESTER VALIDATION

Student attendance at lessons is mandatory.

Attendance at lessons is a precondition for semester validation confirming fulfillment of all student's duties and obligations pertaining to the course. Both the autumn and spring semesters are subject to validation.

In cases teaching is not implemented in the form of lessons due to an insufficient number of candidates, consultations with professors contents are organized five times per semester.

Relief of attendance duty: Students residing outside the City of Belgrade, as well as those having valid grounds for it, may be relieved of their duty to attend lessons upon submission of a well-argued formal request. However, they cannot be relieved of the duty to attend mentored consultations at least once per semester.

Relief-of-attendance requests are subject to approval by UULSB Vicedean and confirmed in a formal decision issued by his/her office.

EXAMS

Timely fulfillment of all relevant contractual financial obligations is a mandatory precondition for taking exams. Students will not be able to apply for taking their exams until the aforementioned financial obligations have been fulfilled.

Students are bound to pass all their exams by the end of the school year, aka in the so-called October exam term the latest. If they fail to do so, they must attend the entire course once again the following school year, as well as fulfill all their pre-exam duties and obligations prior to taking their exams.

Exam grades range from 5-10.

RESOURCES AND TEACHING MATERIALS

Textbooks, teaching scripts and other materials are accessible in the UULSB bookshop or the library.

FINALS: THE MASTER'S PAPER

The Master's paper is an individual student's work indicating that the student has mastered the methodology and skill of independent written consideration of a certain legal issue and its deliberation, as well as drawing conclusions along the lines of the dogmatic, historical, comparative legal or sociological methods appropriate for analyzing legal issues and institutes. The Master's paper applies an academic, scientific and professional apparatus (citation of references, sources of law, court rulings, sentences, legal opinions, general attitudes, etc.) matching the standards of scientific and professional papers in the filed of law.

The master's thesis must be submitted by March 31 of the school year in which the studies are started.

The Proposal is submitted to the Secretary Postgraduate Studies. The Proposal, and the paper topic, by rule, ought to be from the fields included into the student's chosen study programme. A written/electronic agreement of the proposed mentor must be enclosed to it. A mentor for the purpose of a Master's paper may be a UUSLB teacher/lecturer or a researcher engaged in teaching at the MA/LLM level studies competent for the chosen field and the topic of the Proposal.

Master's paper completion deadline: The Postgraduate Studies Committee approves the topic of the final Master's paper, appoints a mentor and names a Master's Thesis Defense Committee. Master studies programme must be completed in time proscribed by Art. 109 of the Serbian Higher Education Law. Unless the paper/thesis is defended within six months following its formal approval, it is will be considered that the student has given up on its defense. Under specific circumstances, the Postgraduate Studies Committee may, based on well-argued grounds stated in a student's written request and with his/her mentor's formal compliance, prolong the deadline for writing and defense of a Master's paper to up to six months, on the condition that the deadline proscribed by the Serbian Higher Education Law had not already passed.

Mandatory contents of a Master's paper draft project proposal:

- 1. Topic;
- 2. Justification (reasons justifying the selection of the topic);
- 3. Aims of the paper;
- 4. Structure with notes for each of the chapters;
- 5. References – At least 15 sources, at least 10 of which must be academic publications and at least 5 must be in a foreign language.

Formal and structural requirements:

Scope: min. 30 up to max. 60 pages;

Paper format: A4;

Margins: Top and bottom – 2.5 cm; left - 3 cm; right - 2 cm;

Font: Times New Roman;

Font size: Text – size 12; footnotes - size 10;

Spacing: 1.5;

Alignment: Justified;

No. of copies: A Master's paper is submitted in 5 (five) hard copies and 1 (one) electronic copy.

MASTER'S PAPER STRUCTURE

1. Contents: Basic parts of the Master's paper – subtitles and pagination;
2. Abbreviations/acronyms: If used in the paper;
3. Introduction: Stating the paper topic, reasons for choosing the topic, issues addressed in the paper, as well as a short overview of its contents based on its parts and its main conclusion;
4. The body of the Master's paper: Deals with the topic of the paper by presenting the theoretical (basic definitions) and practical (illustrative examples, by rule original ones) issues relevant to the topic of the paper. This part of the text needs to be structured in a way that discloses several logical parts marked by appropriate titles and subtitles;
5. Conclusion: It comes at the end of the paper and contains results and findings the student has arrived at during the research and writing of the Master's paper;
6. References: It is a list of readings and sources that the candidate has used for the purpose of his/her research and writing of the Master's paper in an alphabetical order by authors' names and with all data about the relevant bibliographical unit listed in the references;
7. Annexes: If the student wishes to disclose them.

Mandatory reading

The candidate is obliged to use at least 15 sources, at least 10 of which must be academic publications and at least 5 must be in a foreign language in his/her research.

'Sources' pertaining to references, aka reading imply all published sources: books, articles, court rulings, Internet sources, company reports, etc.

Citation:

Sources are to be cited in footnotes.

PLAGIARISM PREVENTION

A Master's paper must be a student's original contribution. Therefore, it is forbidden to use and copy other author's academic, scientific or other work without an adequate citation of the source in a Master's paper. Plagiarism does not only imply stating someone's positions without quoting them, but also using and paraphrasing others' arguments in a way that suggests to the readers of the Master's paper that they originate from its, aka the Master's paper's author.

Using and copying materials in an unpermitted way will be considered plagiarism and disciplinary sanctions will be enacted upon its detection, in accordance with the UUSLB and the Union University bylaws.

UUSLB uses a plagiarism-detecting software. All UUSLB and University instances, as well as its employees having information about plagiarism in a Master's paper being defended at UUSLB are bound to inform the Postgraduate Studies Committee about it promptly.

MASTER'S PAPER DEFENSE

The Master's paper defense is public and done orally, by rule before a three-member committee, one member of which is an UUSLB teacher. The Committee members may be full- and part-time UUSLB teachers, academic associates of other academic and/or scientific institutions ranking from an Academic Assistant all the way to prominent legal experts. One Committee member can be a teacher of another higher education institution or a researcher in a corresponding scientific title.

Members of the Committee are appointed by the decision of the UUSLB Postgraduate Studies Committee, the very same document which approves the Master's paper topic and confirms the mentor appointment.

GRADING

Grading: The defense of the Master's paper is graded as follows:

»not defended« (5/10)

»defended« (6/10)

»defended« (7/10)

»defended with merit« (8/10)

»defended with distinction« (9/10)

» defended with excellence« (10/10)

Unsuccessful defense: If a student fails to defend his/her Master's paper, he/she is instructed to re-write the paper with the same or another topic. A candidate may apply for a Master's paper defense and attempt it no more than two times.
